

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS® # Surveys

NAR's Research Division offers many surveys on different aspects of real estate that are relevant to any real estate professional or those who want to stay informed on the latest trends. Some of Research's most significant survey projects include:

➤ NAR PROFILE OF HOME BUYERS AND SELLERS

Who is buying and selling homes these days – how old are they, and why are they selling or buying? To what extent do they use the services of a real estate professional? What role does the Internet play in the process? These questions and many more are answered in this annual survey of recent home buyers and sellers. Purchase it here:

➤ NAR MEMBER PROFILE

Who are REALTORS®? Economic, demographic, education, tenure, agency relationship and compensation of REALTORS® are broken down in this user-friendly survey. In addition, this report takes an in-depth look at office affiliation, type of firm, and use of the Internet and technology. This unique tool provides answers in a simple-to-use format, designed to allow easy comparisons with previous studies, using a mix of charts, graphs and tables. Purchase it here:

➤ PROFILE OF INTERNATIONAL HOME BUYING ACTIVITY

We live in a global marketplace. While all real estate is local, not all property buyers are. A significant share of home purchases are made by people whose primary residence is outside of the U.S. Find out which are the top five countries of origin for foreign home buyers and how these buyers are utilizing the services of REALTORS®.

➤ FOREIGN INVESTMENT IN U.S. REAL ESTATE REPORT

This 19-page report covers foreign investment in U.S. real estate with a breakdown of the major countries with significant holdings. The report explains that prospects are good for continued healthy investment in U.S. real estate, given the strength of foreign currencies in relation to the U.S. dollar. An overview of today's market and a forecast for the coming year are included.

➤ NAR PROFILE OF BUYER'S HOME FEATURE PREFERENCES

What are the home features that buyers considered most crucial during their home search process? This survey answers this crucial question and many more about what buyers most look for in purchasing a new home. The survey also includes regional and demographic analysis as well as the incremental dollar values buyers place on particular features. Purchase it here:

➤ NAR INVESTMENT AND VACATION HOME BUYERS SURVEY

While most buyers purchase a home to use as their primary residence, a significant share also purchases vacation or investment properties. Because the purchase of a non-primary residence is often influenced by different factors than the purchase of a primary residence, it is important to understand how changes in the market environment affect each segment. This survey estimates the number of home sales that fall into each category and tracks how sales and prices in each vary over time. Purchase it here:
